Join Us in Commemorating the 100th Anniversary of The American Association for Thoracic Surgery

At the AATS Centennial

April 29-May 3, 2017, Boston, MA, in Collaboration with the American Society of Extracorporeal Technology (AmSECT)

Attendees will come together at this historic meeting to enjoy activities, events, and view historical artifacts and memorabilia to commemorate the first 100 years of the AATS and the specialty of cardiothoracic surgery. In addition to this being our Centennial Celebration, the most unique aspect of our meeting this year is our collaboration with the American Society of Extracorporeal Technology (AmSECT). In addition to the programs with which you have become familiar, the AATS will be conducting collaborative parallel sessions during the didactic portion of the program with AmSECT which are sure to be of interest to all members of the team.

Visit www.aats.org/centennial to view full programs for the Saturday Courses and Sunday Symposia.
